NOTIFY TAFT OF HIS NOMINATION

Elihu Root in Short Speech Tells President He Is the Party's Choice

EXECUTIVE SLAMS MOOSE

Denounces Demagoguery, but Does Not Use Roosevelt's Name Directly

WASHINGTON, Aug. 1.—President Taft learned today that he is the nominee of the republican party for presidential honors. The national republican convention's notification committee performed their perfunctory function in a ceremony remarkable for its informality.

Taft Jumps Moose

The president replied with a 10,000 word keynote speech, outlining the issues of the campaign as he saw them, and bitterly assailing "demagoguery, fraud and misrepresentation" against himself and his administration. He did not mention Roosevelt by name in the entire speech, but dubbed the colonel and his followers as "former republicans who have left their party" where he did not couple them with adjectives of denunciation. The president formally accepted the nomination "with profound gratitude to the republican party."

The speech-making took place in the spacious east room of the White House. The original plan had been for the president to speak to the audience on the lawn from the south porch of the executive mansion. Possibility of inclement weather led to the change.

The notification committee—one representative from each state—met at the executive offices shortly before 11 o'clock and marched in a body to the big hall room. There they were met by the president and Mrs. Taft—the president smilingly ready to receive the expected news of his renomination. "Charley" Taft, the president's youngest son, was the only other member of the family present. The president and Mrs. Taft then presided at a battery of photographers and the ceremonies began.

1,000 Present

The east room held nearly 1,000 invited guests—cabinet officers, members of congress, prominent citizens and personal friends. They were grouped about informally. Following the exchange of speeches, a reception line was started and the president and Mrs. Taft personally shook hands with the guests. A buffet luncheon was then served.

Senator Root's notification was brief and formal, but he laid particular stress on the point that Taft's title to the nomination "was as clear and unimpeachable as the title of any candidate for any party; and that he had regularly and duly nominated."

Refers to Bolt

Referring to the Roosevelt bolt, Root said: "For the second time in the history of the republican party, a party of the delegates have refused to be bound by the action of the convention. The reason assigned to this course is dissatisfaction with the decision of certain contests in the making up of the temporary roll of the convention. Those contests were decided by the tribunal upon which the law that has governed the republican party for more than forty years imposed the duty of deciding such contests. So long as those decisions were made honestly and in good faith all persons were bound to accept them as conclusive in the making up of the temporary roll of the convention, and neither in the facts and circumstances produced before the national committee, and the convention itself nor otherwise, does there appear just grounds for impeaching the honesty and good faith of the committee's decisions."

Roll Regular

"Both the making up of the temporary roll and the rights accorded to the persons upon that roll, whose names were contested, were in accordance with the long established and unquestioned rules of laws governing the party, and founded upon justice and common sense."

"Your selection has a broader basis than a mere expression of choice between different party leaders representing the same ideas. You have been nominated because you stand pre-eminently for certain fixed and essential principles, which the republican party maintains."

"You believe in the rule of law rather than the rule of men. You believe, as for individuals, is to establish and abide by declared principles of action. You are in sympathy with the great practical rules of right conduct that the American people have set up for their guidance and self-restraint in the limited"

Boy Is Born In Railway Station

NEW YORK, Aug. 1.—Two bachelors, a policeman and a railroad trainman, were blushing receiving congratulations today as first aid experts while a bouncing baby boy was being well cared for by its mother and the entire staff of nurses of Fordham hospital. The boy's mother, Mrs. Mary Taylor of Ardsley, was taken ill on a New York Central train at Van Cortlandt park and assisted into the station. The policeman and trainman sent a hurry call for a doctor and an ambulance and then aided Mrs. Taylor as well as bachelors could. There were two patients when Dr. McSweeney reached the scene and both were doing well today.

MANY TO RUN AS "DRY" CANDIDATES

Socialist and Prohibition Candidates File Nomination Papers with the Clerk Today

SOCIALISTS ARE OPTIMISTIC

Predict Big Vote in This Election; Will Not Have a Full Ticket

The nomination papers of the social democrats and prohibitionists for county positions were filed with the county clerk today following two weeks of quiet canvassing for signatures. The socialists will not be represented by a full ticket but on the prohibition ticket there will be two candidates for some positions and at least one for each county position.

The social democratic ticket is as follows:

Assemblyman, First district—Dr. Oscar Houck.
Assemblyman, Second district—R. N. Anderson.
Register of deeds—C. J. Jacobson.
District attorney—F. E. Withrow.
Sheriff—J. J. Verchota.
Clerk of court—John Marquet.
County treasurer—R. C. McCaleb.
Coroner—G. M. Eldsmoe.

The following candidates will represent the prohibition party at the primary election.

Assemblyman, First district—D. C. Chappel.
Assemblyman, Second district—Emil Kleinsmith and A. M. Ivey.
Register of deeds—A. A. Merrill and George H. Jones.
District attorney—B. S. Steadwell.
Sheriff—Aaron Westerhouse.
Clerk of court—Henry Stephenson.
County treasurer—Byron Mulder and Albert Smith.
County clerk—C. L. Farnam and C. M. Casberg.
Coroner—G. B. Caple.
County surveyor—Stephen N. Willey.

A. A. Merrill, one of the strong prohibitionists and candidate for register of deeds today admitted that the party has no hope of electing any of their county candidates but said they expect to poll a large vote. He declared that the vote of the prohibition party would make no material difference to the republican and democratic parties as they will pull about the same number from each of the two leading parties.

Leading socialists of La Crosse predict one of the strongest campaigns ever carried on by the party in La Crosse county and are optimistic as to the outcome of the election. There will be no socialist fight at the primary election as candidates are placed on the ticket by means of a preliminary caucus to eliminate controversy in the party.

PAYTON R. CARROLL, TRAVELING MAN, DIES

Payton R. Carroll, for many years a traveling salesman for J. W. Kelley & Company of Chattanooga, Tenn., died at one of the local hospitals last evening after being sick for about a month.

Mr. Carroll was 58 years old and he lived in Milwaukee. In traveling for J. W. Kelley & Company he has visited La Crosse on business for many years and he is well known here.

The funeral services will be held at St. Joseph's cathedral tomorrow morning at 9 o'clock. The body will be sent to Milwaukee tomorrow noon and burial will be made there Saturday.

INDICTED; THEY SURRENDER

CHICAGO, Aug. 1.—Miss Aileen Heppner, indicted on charges of conspiracy and perjury, and Attorney Daniel Donohue, under indictment on a charge of conspiracy in connection with the alleged attempt to besmirch the name of Clarence S. Funk, general manager of the International Harvester company, surrendered to city detectives today.

Donohue was freed under $5,000 bail and Miss Heppner's bond was fixed at $10,000 which was furnished.

KANSAS ELECTORS' CASE IS IN COURT

Supreme Court Justices Hear Arguments in Suit Brought by Taft Men

TO OUST T. R. REPUBLICANS

Trial Is to Determine if Men Declared for Colonel Can Run as G. O. P. Members

NEW YORK, Aug. 1.—Robbed in their black gowns of office, Mahlon Pitney and Willis Vandever, justices of the United States Supreme court, sat in the court room in the Federal building here today to pass on one of the most important political questions ever raised in the history of the nation. Involved was the legality of the future action of presidential electors in most of the direct primary states of the United States.

Grows From Kansas Case

The extraordinary proceeding resulted directly from the action of the supreme court of Kansas declaring that the names of eight presidential electors in that state should be placed on the official primary ballot in the republican column although these men have openly stated that if they are elected they will not vote for Taft and Sherman but will vote for Col. Roosevelt and his running mate when the electoral college assembles.

It had been expected that Chief Justice White would sit in the case, but he failed to appear. The Taft forces were represented in the proceedings by Congressman M. E. Olmstead of Harrisburg, Pa., and Richard R. Hite of Topeka, Kas., while the Roosevelt men had their side of the case presented by L. W. Kephlinger of Kansas City and F. S. Jackson of Topeka.

When the two justices settled back into big easy chairs Justice Pitney said that they were there to decide a petition for a writ of error on a question with which he was not very familiar.

"Just explain this case to us now," Olmstead started to read from a bulky printed brief. The two justices listened a few seconds, plainly impatient and then Pitney broke in again:

"Oh, no! Not that. Just tell us the merits of this contention in plain English. We want to get right at the heart of it."

Olmstead then gave a history of the case.

"There is now a party being formed," he said, "and it is generally accepted that Theodore Roosevelt will be the presidential candidate of that party. These eight defendants only assert that they will support Roosevelt."

"These men went to Chicago and participated in the republican convention for a time, but they not vote for the presidential or the other candidates nominated by that convention."

Here Justice Vandever broke in with a question:

"You don't mean to say that these men changed their minds after the Chicago convention, but that they went into that convention with their minds made up to bolt the ticket nominated there, do you not?"

"Yes, that is what I mean," replied Olmstead. "When they publicly stated their attitude the petitioners in this action appealed to the Harvey county court to enjoin the placing of their names on the primary ballot. Before the court had decided them the case was derelict into the supreme court of the state. That body held that the petition did not furnish a real cause of action which could be passed on by a court as the issue that was involved was of an absolute political nature. This we contend not to be true. After the supreme court dismissed the application, the case was appealed to the supreme court, and that body, Justice West dissenting, upheld the lower court's dismissal."

Involves Voters

"Now under the Kansas law in order for persons to become candidates at the primaries they must have petitions signed by at least one percent of the voters. Many persons who want to support Taft and Sherman signed the petition for the men in question here. Under the law they must support them at the election as they have no right to vote for anyone else, and it is a case of either being disfranchised or voting for electors who will not support in the electoral college the men these voters supported."

While Olmstead was explaining his case to the two justices, Governor Stubbs of Kansas was one of the closest listeners, edging his chair over almost directly under the bench on which the two justices were seated.

F. S. Jackson of Topeka, for the Roosevelt forces, caused a sensation by saying: "Your honors this case involves more dynamite than any case that has come before the supreme court since the days of so-called reconstruction. It involves"

Jealous Frenchwoman Kills Milwaukee Girl

PARIS, Aug. 1.—The case of Mrs. Gaston Bloch who shot and killed Mrs. Jas. E. Bridgeman, formerly Miss Minnie Bernhard of Milwaukee, because she believed the latter had alienated her husband's affection, promised today to prove a puzzle for the French courts.

Between two men an affair of the kind would have been easy to settle—on the field of honor—and the courts would never have heard of it officially because, though duelling is illegal, the police would have winked at it even if one of the combatants had been killed, as an established custom.

French judges do not recognize the unwritten law, however, as an excuse for an informal homicide and a wrong husband, who took matters into his own hands, as Mrs. Bloch did, would suffer for it no matter how great his provocation. It is recognized that a woman's case is different. There have been duels between women but they are not the custom. Mrs. Bloch had no recognized recourse, and the popular view is that she ought not to be blamed for acting on what Paris inclines to think was her only alternative—instantly killing the woman who had ridiculed her sufferings.

HANG AMERICANS TO BRING CRISIS

Mexican Rebels Murder 2 U. S. Citizens to Provoke Uncle Sam to Direct Action

OROZCO INSULTS THE UNION

Tells Consul He Refuses to Recognize Our Government When He Is Given Warning

EL PASO, Texas, Aug. 1.—The two Americans who were found hanging in the state of Sonora, have been identified, according to dispatches received here today. The bodies were found hanging to a tree by a party of American refugees who were on their way to the border. Although there was nothing on the bodies to indicate who hanged the men or why, it is generally supposed to be the work of rebels. The opinion in well informed circles here is that the hangings were deliberately planned to provoke action by the United States, and thus to embarrass the Maderista government of Mexico.

The state department today ordered United States consuls in northern Mexico to conduct a rigid investigation into the hanging.

Officials here regard the incident as one of extreme gravity. Should Orozco and Salazar carry out their threats to kill Americans by the wholesale, the United States would be forced to send troops into Mexico. Yesterday's outrage may bring the long expected crisis.

For two weeks the Mexican situation has gradually been growing worse.

More than 800 Mormon refugees from the mountain colonies of Mexico have been added to the refugees' camp in this city since last night and another train load is enroute today with several hundred more.

Those coming today are from the remote colonies of Carcia, Pochocho and Chichupa, the latter more than sixty miles from the railroad. All of them are far from civilization.

Enroute from remote colonies to Pearson, three Mormon women, under stress of fear and excitement, gave birth to children while traveling over mountain trails in farm wagons.

Orozco Insults U. S.

Americans here were inflamed to further anger against General Pascual Orozco and the rebels by a statement of Orozco to American Consul Edwards, at Juarez, that he does not recognize the United States government. Edwards called at Orozco's headquarters to deliver a note from Secretary of State Knox, notifying the rebel chieftain that mistreatment of Americans in northern Mexico must stop or Orozco would be held responsible.

Orozco told Edwards that he would not receive him as an American representative, but, that, personally, he was glad to see him. He accepted Knox's note under these terms, and Edwards left.

WANTS HANFORD IMPEACHED

LINCOLN, Neb., Aug. 1.—William J. Bryan in a Commoner editorial today urged congress to proceed with the Hanford investigation, declaring that the Seattle judge has disgraced the federal bench.

SLIPS ONE OVER ON BUFFALO BILL?

Urchin Thinks He Fooled Old Time Indian Fighter; Gets Reserved Seat Pass

MANY FROM OTHER TOWNS

Hundreds Arrive from Minnesota; William Cody and Powell Brothers Hold Love Feast

Pleasant reminiscences of Indian warfare on the plains in the "good old days" were interrupted this morning as a curly headed little "street arab" thrust his way into the inner offices of the Powell brothers, and greeted Colonel William F. Cody, better known as Buffalo Bill, with a "How-de-do."

Sizing up the world famed Indian fighter of former days with a look of admiration and awe, and changing his cap from one hand to the other in an embarrassed manner, the little fellow finally broached the subject of his visit.

"You ain't Buffalo Bill, are you?" he quizzed with disbelief apparent.

"Well, that's what they call me," answered Colonel Cody. "Now, what can I do for you?"

"Well, you see, I carried water for the alfalfa and Johnny Baker told me you'd give me a pass," explained the visitor.

Baker in Montana

At that moment a messenger boy entered with a telegram from John Baker, general manager of the Buffalo Bill show, containing the information that everything is going fine in Montana and that he would probably join the show in a week.

With a good natured smile Colonel Cody attached his "O. K." to a reserved seat pass which found its way into a grimy little "paw." Seemingly bent on demonstrating his ability as a human pile driver, and with the thought that he had "slipped one over" on Buffalo Bill, the urchin made his exit.

Crowds Would See Cody

For two hours this morning a huge crowd surrounded the building in which the offices of Drs. George E. and William A. Powell's offices are located in the hopes of getting a glimpse of the famous westerner.

During the days when the middle west was a wilderness teeming with savage Indians, the Powell brothers and Mr. Cody grew to manhood and fought the "redskins" side by side. For several years Mr. Cody has been in the habit of paying a visit to his friends.

Upon his arrival here today he immediately called upon his friends who later joined him at his tent on the show grounds where they will spend the day.

Many years ago an agreement was made between W. A. Powell, William F. Cody and White Beaver, a brother of Dr. Powell that all should be buried at a certain spot near Encampment, Wyo., upon their death. White Beaver is now resting in the lonely spot mid the rolling prairies of the west where he spent the greater part of his life, fighting the Indians and paving the way for future civilization.

Many Come to La Crosse

Hundreds of persons flocked to La Crosse from southern Minnesota, river cities and the Kickapoo valley this morning to see the Buffalo Bill show and thousands of La Crosse people donned their "glad raiment" this afternoon and started for the grounds at Eighteenth and Market streets. Many more will doubtless be on hand tonight to bid the famous warrior farewell.

HUNT ALLEGED BALLOON

MINNEAPOLIS, Aug. 1.—Launches are scouring the surface of Lake Minnetonka in the vicinity of Hotel Edgewood, Lake Minnetonka, today in search of a strange balloon which Herman Reeves, boatman, and others say they saw fall into the lake in the vicinity of Edgewood. Reeves says he saw a cigar-shaped balloon apparently coming from the northwest. Some witnesses say they could see a form hanging below the bag.

T. R. TAKES COLOR STAND

OYSTER BAY, N. Y., Aug. 1.—That he will take a radical stand on the negro question which "will probably not be popular," was the declaration today of Colonel Roosevelt. He said that he had completed a declaration of where he stands comprising some 1,500 words and that it will be made public within the next few days.

SIR RUFUS ESCAPES

READING, Eng., Aug. 1.—Attorney General Sir Rufus Isaacs' foresight in providing himself with a body guard saved him from suffragettes at the dedication of a new police court building here today. The suffragettes rushed the guard in footfall formation, and the woman who led them got through and nearly landed a blow in Sir Rufus' face.

FRENCH RUSS ALLIANCE?

PARIS, Aug. 1.—Le Temps says today it understands France and Russia have closed a compact to use their armies and navies jointly for defense. The convention of 1892 applied to their armies only.

Tells English Women To Bathe More; Is Jeered

YORK, England, Aug. 1.—As he might have expected, Dr. Richard Quine of Manchester, discovered today that he was stirring up a hornet's nest when he told the sanitary congress here that English women ought to bathe more—as much as the American women do. On the London newspapers arrival at York, filled full of letters from all over Great Britain, the doctor learned what English women think of him.

The doctor's theory is that English women are bashful and dislike being seen in undress flitting from dressing or bedroom to bathroom and that the American women do not in the least mind it.

MERCHANTS PLAN TRIP TO WINONA

Local Business Men to Visit Up-river Town on Excursion to "Whoop 'er Up" for La Crosse

WILL GO VIA THE RIVER

Expedition Will Be All-day Affair on the Steamer Sidney; Crowd Expected

The first 1912 excursion of La Crosse merchants will be given on Wednesday, August 7. It will be a river trip to Winona, on the steamer Sydney, and an all day affair.

The boat will leave the levee here at nine in the morning. It will arrive in Winona about one o'clock. There it will lie at the levee until 4 in the afternoon, when the trip back will be begun. The excursion will return to La Crosse at 7:30 in the evening.

The river excursion of La Crosse merchants is a booming plan inaugurated several years ago. The merchants and business men of the city take a day off and visit their business connections in the towns near La Crosse in a body. The object is to cement closer trade relations, and advertise the city, while getting acquainted with the business men of other towns.

The last excursion via river was to Lansing last summer. There have been several trips made to Lansing, each was an unqualified success. It is confidently expected by local merchants that the excursion to be given Wednesday will be the biggest, best and most successful in every way that has been given. It is expected that the big boat will be crowded to its capacity with enthusiastic boosters, who will "whoop 'er up" for La Crosse in Winona's business district until they must run to catch the boat.

As a pleasure outing, the trip to Winona by the river is one of the most popular journeys from the city. The scenery along the way is said by travelers to rival anything to be seen on the famed river Rhine, and Winona is a city with many interesting places to visit.

The merchants are making a special effort to have families take the trip. There will be no liquor sold on the boat, and there will be plenty of music.

BEVERIDGE FOR GOVERNOR

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind., Aug. 1.—Albert J. Beveridge was this afternoon nominated governor by the progressive state convention. Frederick Landis of Logansport, former congressman, was nominated lieutenant governor. Both were named by acclamation.

BROTHER-IN-LAW OF HELLFACH DIES

William Hellfach today received news of the death of his brother-in-law, D. S. Aller, 156 Dugine street, Chicago. The funeral ceremony will take place from the family residence in that city.

WOULD IMPEACH WRIGHT

WASHINGTON, Aug. 1.—Speaker Clark today received a letter from Attorney Francis T. Tobin of Philadelphia demanding the impeachment of Associate Justice Daniel Thew Wright of the district of Columbia supreme court. Tobin charged that Justice Wright was influenced in his decision sentencing President Gompers and other officials of the American Federation of Labor to jail for contempt of court, by the Bucks Stove and Range company and that Wright violated his oath.

NELSON FILES AFFIDAVIT

ST. PAUL, Minn., Aug. 1.—Senator Knute Nelson's affidavit as a candidate for renomination at the primaries September 17 was filed with the secretary of state today by Senator George P. Wilson of Minneapolis. Senator Nelson is a candidate for a fourth term. He is on his eighth year of service in the senate.

BIG BUSINESS CHANGES MADE

Heath Bows Himself Out and A. L. Goetzmann Is Now Manager of Listman Mills

HEADS $12,000,000 BUSINESS

General Manager of Ogilvie Flour Mills Co., Ltd., Is New Title of Heath

A. L. Goetzmann, for seven years secretary of the Millers' National Federation, today assumed the duties and responsibilities of secretary and manager of the Listman Mill company. He occupies the position vacated by the resignation of George M. Heath, who has been in active charge of the affairs of the big institution for the last eighteen years. Mr. Heath has accepted a position as general manager of the Ogilvie Flour mills company with headquarters at Montreal, Canada.

Mr. Goetzmann is well known personally or by reputation throughout this section of the country, having held the position of superintendent of the Minnesota and Dakota divisions of the Chicago and Northwestern railroad company, with headquarters at Winona, for seven years previous to his election as secretary of the Millers' Federation. His connection with the transportation department of the railroad and his position of secretary in the millers' organization have thoroughly familiarized him with the trade throughout the country, bringing him an experience that is of inestimable value in the position he assumed today.

In Prime of Life

Mr. Goetzmann is a man of pleasing personality, in the prime of life and possessed of an experience in the affairs of men and business that will undoubtedly make him a valuable acquisition to the commercial interests of La Crosse. He was born in Boone, Iowa, in 1868 and is a graduate of the Massachusetts Institute of Technology. He entered the employ of the Chicago and Northwestern railroad when a young man, at first occupying a subordinate position in the engineering department.

Possessed of more than ordinary talent and ambition he gradually worked himself up until he was promoted to the position of superintendent of the Minnesota and Dakota divisions of the railroad.

While in this position he came in close contact with the millers of the northwest and established a business reputation that resulted in his being asked to take the secretaryship of the Millers' Federation. This he accepted and held for seven years, resigning to accept the management of the Listman Mills.

Mr. Goetzmann's railroad experience equipping him with the details of transportation, add much to his qualifications for his new undertaking. He comes here at the solicitation of Frank P. Hixon and Jos. M. Hixon, the largest stockholders in the institution.

No Change in Policy

Mr. Goetzmann today announced that there will be no immediate change in the policy of the mills under his management. He expressed himself as well satisfied with the outlook of the company and with La Crosse. W. A. Wager, for several years superintendent of the mills, was today promoted to the position

AWAITING THE STORK

MRS. MADELINE FORCE ASTOR TO BECOME MOTHER WITH-IN WEEK; HOPES FOR A SON

NEW YORK, Aug. 1.—A long unused apartment of the Astor mansion in Fifth avenue, the nursery, has been renovated and refurnished and today was ready for occupancy. Mrs.
Madelaine Force Astor, girl widow of Colonel John Jacob Astor, Titanic victim, expects a visit from the stork within the week.

No longer does the residence have a sombre look. The curtains, tight drawn since April, are now opened to the sunlight. Two physicians and three trained nurses have been added to the retinue of the young widow, for the posthumous child of Colonel Astor will be a prize in more ways than one. By the Astor will the expected heir will inherit $3,000,000 and further legal complications are said to be possible.

Entirely recovered from the effects of her Titanic experience, Mrs.
Madelaine Astor is said to be cheerful and in the best of health. She hopes she may have a son to perpetuate the name of John Jacob Astor.

GIRL IS MISSING

FOND DU LAC, Wis., Aug. 1.—
Police are searching the city for Mary Konopp of Stevens Point, who is missing from her home. The mother is of the belief that a man with whom the girl is acquainted may be involved in her disappearance.
It is thought she went either to Grand Rapids or this city.

TO FIGHT SOCIALISTS

CHICAGO, Aug. 1.—As an aftermath of the newspaper strike which has developed into a boycott the association papers in Chicago have started an anti-socialist campaign.
In this movement they have so far had the co-operation of the police.

WINONA IS AFTER COMMISSION FORM

WINONA, Minn., Aug. 1.—Acting upon the petition recently filed with him Judge Arthur H. Snow of the district court yesterday appointed a commission of fifteen freeholders to draft a new charter for the city of Winona along the lines of the commission form of government.

The commission is expected to have the charter ready to submit to the people at the general election in November.

Those appointed on the commission are:
George Winter, F. D. Denton, Harry Livingston, F. A. Rising, Scott
Laird, D. F. O'Brien, H. C. Garvin,
W. J. Smith, William Codman, B.

RAILROAD MEN SNUB ROCHESTER

ROCHESTER, Minn., Aug. 1.—
The failure of the Chicago Great Western officials to meet with the arrangements of the Commercial club for their entertainment last night was the subject of much comment among Rochester's business men today. Practically all are of the opinion that the officials' action, while not premeditated, was a direct insult to the city. General Manager Slifer would not discuss the matter this morning. Other members of the railroad party were equally reticent.

STOP SOCIALIST MEETINGS

CHICAGO, Aug. 1.—The cases of fourteen persons arrested when the police broke up four socialist street meetings, were continued today in municipal court. There are now sixteen cases pending in the crusade of the police to stop the open air meetings of socialists in Chicago. The police are acting under an ordinance which requires police permits for street speaking.

CARMEN MAY STRIKE

CHICAGO, Aug. 1.—A referendum vote on the question of a strike of the street car employees in Chicago will be taken tomorrow, following the refusal of the men to accept the offer of the Chicago Railways company to extend the wage agreement which expired last midnight. The employees demand a wage increase.

WISCONSIN NEWS

MILK TAKES JUMP IN MILWAUKEE

MILWAUKEE, Aug. 1.—Because of the drought, outside competition and the resulting increase in the wholesale price, a raise of 1 cent a quart for milk will go into effect on Thursday, which will bring the retail price to 7 cents a quart.

The drought of last summer and the heavy rains of early spring stunted the crop of pasture and the consequent supply of milk and when Chicago dealers invaded the territory of the Milwaukee dairymen the price climbed to a point almost prohibitive. The Chicago dealers are paying $1 a gallon for cream containing 20 per cent butter fat, a raise of 45 cents over the normal price paid by Milwaukee dairymen.

All through Wisconsin shippers are demanding high prices for milk and the Milwaukee milk dealers claim that the raise in the retail price was inevitable.

TOWN MARSHAL IS SHOT BY HOLD-UPS

CHIPPEWA FALLS, Wis., Aug.
1.—Fred C. Griffin, night marshal at Owen, was shot when he attempted to arrest two men who had just held up a farmer. Griffin was brought to a hospital here, where it is said his condition is critical. The robbers obtained but $3.10 from the farmer, which they returned to him, bidding him to remain there until they had escaped. Griffin immediately was notified, however, and in an attempt to arrest the two men in the railway yards at Owen was shot. The men escaped.

STRIKEBREAKER UP FOR MURDER

MANITOWOC, Wis., Aug. 1.—
A coroner's jury found that Frank Nitka, a union molder, who was killed Saturday night in a brawl, was murdered by a sharp instrument, and advised that Joseph Ra-mar, a strikebreaker, be held for the crime.

LIGHTNING KILLS LAD

SHEBOYGAN, Wis., Aug. 1.—
Frederick Schmidt, 17 year old son of Herman Schmidt, of Schwana, Wis., was killed by lightning on the farm of his uncle, Frederick Schmidt. William, Philip and Minnie Schmidt were knocked unconscious by the same bolt. The shock may prove fatal to Philip.

CONVENTION HELD AT PRAIRIE DU CHIEN

The fourteenth biennial convention of the Catholic Knights of Wisconsin closed its meetings at Prairie du Chien Wednesday afternoon, July 31. The meetings were held at the court house, which was decorated in red, white and blue, and yellow and white, the papal colors.
About three hundred delegates attended these meetings and elected new officers, discussed the insurance rate and transacted all business pertaining to the general welfare of the order.

Among the famous men present were Bishop Schwebach of La Crosse and Rev. P. H. Kremer, vicar general of Genoa, who held services for the Knights at St. Gabriel's church
Tuesday morning.

Tuesday evening a banquet was given the Knights and their families at Sacred Heart college. Tuesday night a band concert was held at the Dousman house in their honor, and the convention closed with a reception at St. Mary's academy.

The next convention will be held at Green Bay in July, 1914.

MOTOR BOAT RUN HARD

DREAM CAPTURES BERMUDA CHALLENGE TROPHY AFTER DIFFICULT WEATHER
ALL THE WAY

HAMILTON, Bermuda, Aug. 1.—
The motorboat Dream, which Saturday left Philadelphia in a speed test with the Kathema, today was declared winner of the Bermuda challenge trophy, and $1,000 cash. When the Dream arrived off St. David's Head, at 9:30 o'clock last night, having made the run from Philadelphia in 105 hours and 18 minutes and fifty seconds, the Kathema had not been heard from. Today the Dream proceeded on to this port to complete the 719 mile course.

On Sunday night a southwesterly gale overtook the Dream and she was hove-to all night, with sea anchor and oil covering over all. Cooking aboard was impossible Monday. Tuesday night a funnel shaped hurricane was encountered, which added to the difficulties. Everything in the cabin was awash and the hatches were closed down. The crew came near throwing the lifeboats overboard. Two men were lashed to the wheel for sixty hours.

When the Dream arrived off St.
David's Head, with a list to port and her engine covered with rust, it was plain that the little craft had encountered severe conditions.

A BLOOD MEDICINE WITHOUT ALCOHOL.

Recently it has been definitely proven by experiments on animals that alcohol lowers the germicidal power of the body and that alcohol paralyzes the white corpuscles of the blood and renders them unable to take up and destroy disease germs. Disease germs cause the death of over one-half of the human race.

A blood medicine, made entirely without alcohol, which is a pure glyceric extract of roots, such as Bloodroot, Queen's root, Golden Seal root, Mandrake and some roots, has been extensively sold by druggists for the past forty years as Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery. The refreshing influence of this extract is like Nature's influence—the blood is bathed in the tonic which gives life to the blood—the vital fires of the body burn brighter and their increased activity consumes the tissue rubbish which has accumulated during the winter.

Dr. R. V. Pierce, the founder of the Invalids' Hotel and Surgical Institute, and a physician of large experience and practice, was the first to make up an ALTERNATIVE EXTRACT of roots, without a particle of alcohol or narcotic.

"It is with the greatest of pleasure, that I write to let you know of the great benefit I received from the use of your medicines and self-treatment at home," writes Mrs. Wm. Hayes, of Ladysmith, B.C. "I suffered for three years from a running sore. Consulted four doctors but they failed to mend or give relief. Finally I was told I was in consumption and would have to consult a specialist concerning my ear, that the dead bone must be cut out before the wound would heal. A kind friend advised me to write to Dr. Pierce, which I did, and after seven months' use of the treatment the sore is healed, and I enjoy better health than I ever did. I dressed the wound with Dr. Pierce's All-Healing Salve and took the 'Golden Medical Discovery' and 'Pleasant Pellets' for my troubles. I shall always recommend your medicines.

Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets regulate liver and bowels.

EFFICIENCY ENGINEERING

"Efficiency engineering" is the term which has been invented to describe the science by which the greatest amount of productive effort is secured from the individual workman. Some of the labor leaders have jumped at the wrongful conclusion that because the system helps the employer it injures the workman. The real fact is that it helps both. The workman under the new system puts brains into his labor. Thus he takes more interest and as his interest increases his efficiency increases. "Efficiency engineering" is the phrase that includes all the many methods which have been put into effect for encouraging and holding interest in work.

It is probable that the efficiency engineers never will be able to invent a more reliable and efficacious device for accomplishing this end than the old fashioned vacation. The best part of the vacation, if it is long enough, is that a man is just as willing to come back as he was to go away. His work calls to him. He feels when his play spell is over that it is more than ever appealing, demanding his best efforts, his strongest loyalty, his keenest enthusiasm. While it was left with no qualms, and indeed with joy, it seems like a friend after a few weeks or a month of idleness.

It is likely that the future will see an increased realization of the dollar and cents value of the vacation. The intelligent employer today recognizes it as his best friend, paying handsome dividends for the capital invested. It makes of the old routine something new and fresh, something worthy of time, attention and perseverance. Under its tonic stimulation the employee gives more for every dollar paid him.

It is part of the perversity of human nature to think that a life which is all vacation would be worth while. Men who have tried it know better. The function of the vacation simply is to place work in the right perspective, to make of it the glorious outlet for brains and energy that it is.

SUICIDE AND CITY LIFE

Suicide has declined in the large cities of the United States during the last ten years and has increased in the smaller cities. Statistics for the decade show that in the twenty-one largest cities the rate of suicide per 100,000 of population has decreased from 19.8 to 13.8; for seventy-nine cities of less than 250,000 population it has increased from 13.8 to 19.8.

Evidently we must revise our opinions as to the relative strain of life in the large and small cities. It heretofore has been thought that peace and quiet were to be found in the smaller places in much greater abundance than in the large. The hurry and worry which ends in the mental breakdown, that authorities say precedes all suicides, have been associated with the supposedly strenuous existence inevitable in such centers of population as New York and Chicago.

San Diego, Cal., and Davenport, Ia., are small places, but their suicide rate is three times as large as that of New York or Chicago. In the ranks of the larger cities St. Louis, approximately 575,000, has a rate twice as large as have New York or Chicago, cities which count their populations by millions. The far western cities show a percentage of self-destruction many times greater than either of the country's leading municipalities. What is the explanation?

It is probable that one reason lies in the changing character of the smaller cities. A great alteration in business and social habits has taken place in the smaller municipalities within the last few years. Competition has become keen and ruthless. The new cities have all the vigor and all the cruelty of youth. They record great successes, but they also record reverses.

In the larger city, on the other hand, the man who has made good is more certain of that stability in his position which most men seek and few attain. If he has proved his efficiency he is valued. The conservatism of the larger center gives the man of tried and proved worth a security not found in the smaller places, where lack of experience puts novelty and change at a premium. While it usually is difficult to get a start in the big community, once a start is made and a man has demonstrated ability above the average he is valued as an asset and has a degree of mental repose not to be found in a community where any newcomer may become eligible for his job or his business. Where there is insecurity and unrest there is mental strain and mental strain is back of every suicide.

Woodrow Wilson has been fortunate thus far in that nobody has tried to queer him by naming a nickel cigar after him.

Now that Hilles has been appointed his campaign manager, Taft probably hopes it will be over the Hilles to the White House.

The Possibilities of Honesty

Louis D. Brandeis was discussing the methods of certain corporations which had been mentioned as inclined to do business in a shady manner. Then he told this story: "And now, my son," said the bank president, "this is your birthday, and you are about to begin your business life. There are ahead of you tremendous possibilities. After sizing you up, I am convinced that you will be a shining success. And I always want you to remember that honesty is the best policy, no matter what you may undertake."

"Yes, father," agreed the young man respectfully. "And, by the way," added the father, in a spirit of kindness, "I suggest that you devote a few months to the study of corporation law. It will amaze you to discover how many things you can do in a business way and still be honest."—Popular Magazine.

Good Clock to Quit By Hereafter the chief clerk of a West Bottoms manufacturing concern will be careful when complaining of the tardiness of a certain employee. This employee, a bookkeeper, was due from lunch at 1 o'clock. One day last week he stepped into the office, and the well-regulated clock stood at 10 minutes after 1. The chief clerk glanced at the well-regulated clock and asked, "Ten minutes late, what's the matter?" "I'm not late. The clock is fast," was the cheerful answer.

Should He?
During a discussion of the fitness of things in general, some one asked, "If a young man takes his best girl to the grand opera, spends eight dollars on a supper after the performance, and then takes her home in a taxicab, should he kiss her good-night?"

An old bachelor who was present growled, "I don't think she ought to expect it. Seems to me he has done enough for her."—Lippincott's.

True to the Turnverein
Dr. David Bokhof of the Swope settlement was enrolling several boys for the privilege of the various departments of the institution the other day. One particularly restless, trouble-headed little fellow was being questioned by the doctor: "And what religion do your parents profess?" asked the doctor. There was a silence. "Don't you know what church your father and mother belong to?" came the second question. "Sure, I do," blurted out the boy. "All right, which is it?" "They belong to the Turnverein," proudly answered the young scion of the clan of Germania.—Kansas City Journal.

Fate Can't Be Dodged

"President Taft," said a Washington correspondent, "took the republican convention last month very philosophically. He said if he was fated to be nominated he'd be nominated, and on this head he told a friend of mine a little story."

"A grand vizier, the story ran, asked his master, the sultan, for permission to depart at once for Smyrna."

"You may go, vizier," the sultan answered, "but why this sudden departure?" "Alas! sire," said the grand vizier, "I have just seen the Angel of Death among the throng before your throne, and he looked at me so long and strangely that I am sure he must have come for me."

"Go, then. Go at once," the sultan said; and, after the vizier's departure, he beckoned the Angel of Death to him and asked: "Why did you gaze so strangely at my grand vizier?" "I was only wondering," the angel answered, "why the man was here, for I have orders to kill him late this afternoon in Smyrna."

His Only Chance
"Now, ladies and gentlemen," said the conjurer, pointing to his magic cabinet. "I beg to call your attention to the great illusion of the evening. I will ask any lady in the audience to enter the cabinet. I will then close the door; when I open it again the lady will have disappeared, leaving no trace."

In the second row of the audience a puny, undersized man, with a haunted, harassed expression, turned, with a strange gleam of hope in his dull, mild eyes, to an enormous female who sat next to him. She had a strong, stern face, with black, beetling brows, and a chin like the ram of a first class battleship.

"Maria, dear," he said eagerly, "won't you oblige the gentleman?"—Ideas.

The MAN in the BROWN DERBY

by WELLS HASTINGS
Author of THE PROFESSOR'S MYSTERY
Copyright 1911 by Bobbs-Merrill Co.

Certainly its architecture was sufficiently horrible. It was one of those singular architectural freaks more common to forty years ago than to the saner present time, and was built, I suppose, to represent a Rhine castle; for it was broad and rather low, with here and there an unmeaning turret, and with its flat roof hidden by castellated battlements. In stone it might have been a dignified eyesore, but in its palpable wooden imitation it was a ludicrous one.

The place was somewhat in disrepair. Here and there a battlement had rotted and fallen away, or an oblong discolored of the walls showed the loss of a plank that had once hardly masqueraded as granite. Even the ivy, that ran darkly over its walls, and stretched lighter tendrils to the roof itself, seemed not so much the happy refuge of a thousand twittering birds, as all decent ivy should, but rather some great wave that had swept sullenly against the rotting, tawdry splendor, running its devouring fingers to the falling battlements, a wave that must slowly recede again and with its next surge engulf this obstructing corruption in its own. When we had driven past, and I looked back at it, the windows on that side reflected in distortion some brightness of the sun, and I saw for the first time that they were barred. Mrs. Lathrop sitting beside me gave a little shiver.

"Are you cold?" I asked her. "No," she answered shortly; nor during the rest of our drive, which I now made as brief as possible, did she vouchsafe another word. But when we had gone up to our private sitting-room she turned to me. "What are you going to do now, Mason Ellsworth?" she asked. "I am going right back," I said, "as quickly as I safely can. I don't quite know what I am going to do when I get there, but of course I am going to find Nancy if possible, and if I can't, I'm going to reconnoiter and see how I can get into the place."

"Well, hurry," said Mrs. Lathrop. "You may be sure I will do that," I replied. "It was, yourself who advised me to go slow."

"I know," said Mrs. Lathrop, "and of course you must go slow, but for all that, hurry as much as you can; for I did not fully realize what it was until I saw it. My heart is cold with it yet; and that sweet young lady is in there, and I am partly responsible."

"That, of course, is absurd," I answered. "If anybody is responsible, I am. But I shall have her out of there, Mrs. Lathrop, even if I have to hurt somebody to do it."

"Hurt anybody you like," she snapped; "I'm sure they deserve it; only be careful not to get yourself in trouble. Remember, you have to keep yourself free and unhampered."

When I got back to the place again, I hid myself behind a big clump of bushes on the opposite side of the road. Behind me was empty farm land, so that I felt myself secure from observation and able to give my undivided attention to studying the sanatorium and the grounds about it.

I sat for some time peering through the branches of my leafy cover, and had about made up my mind that the guard was less vigilant than Nancy supposed, when a man came into view about the eastern corner of the place. He looked about him cautiously for a moment, and called up, apparently to the blank wall of ivy, "Hey, Jim."

"Yes," a voice answered, "what is it?" From behind the battlements of the roof another figure rose. "Sure," he said; "catch," and tossed something to the waiting man below. "What time is it?" he asked.

"About half-past five," the man on the ground answered. "I wish it was six."

"So do I," said the man on the roof, and sank down out of sight, while the other resumed his leisurely round. But now that I knew where to look, from time to time, I could catch a glimpse of the forehead and eyes of the man on the roof, as he peered cautiously through the castellated barrier; and I thanked Heaven that I had hidden myself, and was doubly thankful that evidently I had been able to hide myself unobserved. Apparently at six o'clock the guards were to be changed, and I wondered if the place was so watched and patrolled both night and day. I knew, at least, that the night would be dark, and that the moon, by which I had seen the night prowler at Marbury, would no longer make the world too bright for prowlings of my own.

I settled myself down behind my bush, stretching out my cramped limbs to wait as best I could the coming darkness. Infrequent pedestrians passed my hiding place, and once or twice some country conveyance rattled by; but no one stopped or made any attempt to go into the sanatorium. Indeed, I thought the villagers who passed me quickened their pace a little as they went by the grounds and glanced askance at the ominous old building as if it were something to fear. At ten minutes to six the watchman

HAVE DARROW CODE

STATE CLAIMS STRONG ADVANTAGE IN POSSESSION OF SECRET SYSTEM OF THE McNAMARA DEFENSE

LOS ANGELES, Aug. 1.—Declaring it had gained advantage in introducing the code used by the defense attorneys in the McNamara murder trial, the state in the Darrow bribery case prepared to pursue this advantage when Clarence Darrow, the defendant, resumed the stand for cross examination. Although plainly surprised that the state had gained the secret of the code, Darrow declared today that this really would not make the slightest difference in the outcome of the case. The prosecution has introduced code telegrams that passed between Darrow and Rappaport of Indianapolis, tending to show that, following Bert Franklin's arrest on bribery charges, Darrow authorized an expenditure of $1,000 to regain the documentary evidence, which was seized by the state authorities at Indianapolis in the international iron workers' union office. Darrow said it was a mere coincidence that such an expenditure had been authorized after Franklin was arrested.

News Of The North Side

ENGINES MAKES UNUSUAL RUN

Superintendent of Iowa Division of C. & N. W. Railroad Praises Team Work of Men

An unusual record for immunity against engine failures, regarded as one of the most serious causes of delay to trains, is reported by the operating department of the Chicago and Northwestern Railway for one of its divisions. The superintendent of the western Iowa division has just sent in a report covering the month of June, which is regarded as remarkable and as a striking indication of an increasing sense of "team work" on the part of the men.

During the month there were in service on the division thirty-two locomotives in the passenger service, making a total mileage of 97,742 miles; nineteen engines in the regular freight service, with a mileage of 40,342 miles; thirteen engines in the way freight service with a mileage of 11,150 miles; nine engines in the work train service with a mileage of 3,075 miles and ten engines in the switching service, a total of 5,281 hours.

This makes an aggregate of seventy-three engines in service for the month with an aggregate mileage of 152,309 miles, representing a distance equal to more than forty-seven trips between New York and San Francisco or more than six trips around the world. During the entire month, however, there was not one engine failure of any nature, no delay to passenger trains on account of locomotive conditions, not an hour's delay in switching service and not a car set out in the freight train service.

This record, says the management, is due to an increasing disposition on the part of the men to take some such pride in their work as marked the old days of railroading. As an example of this one incident is taken as indicating the desire on the part of the trainmen to make a good record. On the locomotive hauling an important passenger train the air apparatus opening the fire-box doors became out of order, which made it possible to pass the fuel into the fire box through one of the doors only, rendering it impossible to use the shovel.

By the ingenuity of fireman and engineer the locomotive was fired by hand in this way and the train arrived on schedule time at the terminal, enabling the division to retain a perfect record.—Chicago Evening Post, Thursday, July 18, 1912.

PROGRAM OF MOOSE OUT.

CHICAGO, Aug. 1.—A revised program for the national progressive convention was announced at the headquarters of the party here today. Instead of speaking on Monday night as had been arranged, Colonel Roosevelt will deliver his "declaration of faith" at Tuesday's session of the convention.

The convention will be called to order Monday noon by Governor Hiram Johnson of California. Prayer will be offered by Dr. E. F. Dornblazer of the German Lutheran congregation. Albert J. Beveridge, formerly United States senator from Indiana, will be chosen temporary chairman and he will deliver the keynote speech of the convention. Permanent organization will be completed before the first day's session is adjourned. Col. John M. Parker of Louisiana will be permanent chairman.

On Tuesday, Rev. Father Andrew Stetz will pronounce the invocation. Roosevelt's speech will follow. Reports of committees, including the platform committee, will be made, and action will be taken upon their recommendations.

Prayer by Rabbi G. S. Levi will open the Wednesday session. Nominations for president and vice president will be made, and speeches of acceptance will be delivered by the two nominees.

SUSPECTS THIEF OF TAKING CASH

North Side Man Finds the Empty Pocketbook When He Searches Pockets

Upon looking through his trousers pockets Tuesday G. H. Welch, 1648 Avon street, discovered that about $30 which he had in a pocketbook, was missing. It must have been removed between Sunday and Tuesday. The empty pocketbook was in the pocket where he left it. Mr. Welch can advance no theories as to how the money was lost unless it can be that some of the thieves who have been caught in several homes in the vicinity may have entered his house. He says that he found evidence Monday morning that the screen door had been tampered with but he does not remember how the door was Tuesday morning. During the warm nights the doors were left open and the screen doors hooked. He declares that on Monday morning he noticed that the screen door leading to the living room had been tampered with but nothing was missed from the house, so nothing was thought of the matter.

This leads him to believe that somebody entered the house on one of those nights and the money was probably taken then. Mr. Welch says that he had a watch laying on the dresser but that this was not touched.

It is thought that some thieves may be working in the neighborhood for Mr. Welch says that somebody has entered and been discovered in the homes of Tim Goyette and Joe Roth recently. In both places they were discovered before they had time to steal anything.

GEORGE KALLES BOUND OVER

George Kalles, arrested on a statutory charge, was bound over to the circuit court by Judge John Brindley yesterday afternoon. No steps toward the prosecution of Miss Mary Matlak, who admits being a party to the crime, have been taken. The wife of Kalles was not permitted to testify against her husband upon motion of attorneys for the defense.

JOHN SCHREIBER GOES TO ST. PAUL

John Schreiber, for about a year assistant secretary in the office of the Y. M. C. A. building, today resigned his position and left for St. Paul, his former home. Mr. Schreiber resigned because he desired outside work. He has several positions in sight in St. Paul, but will probably spend a week or two visiting with his relatives before undertaking his new duties. Mr. Schreiber has made many friends during his connection with the local Y. M. C. A.

CLOUDBURST DOES DAMAGE

CHEYENNE, Wyo., Aug. 1.—Word reached here early today that a cloudburst had occurred at Point of Rocks, Wyo., late last night and that a wall of water was rushing down on Rock Springs. Warnings were sent out to all residents of the lowlands to move immediately. It is not known what damage was done. Later dispatches indicated that the damage resulting from the cloudburst was small.

Nor is it a rule that the largest pocketbooks contain the most money.

CROWDS FLOCK IN TO SEE BIG SHOW

Every Train Crowded with People from Surrounding Towns; Extra Coaches Put On

All trains coming into La Crosse today were crowded with people from the surrounding towns who came to the city to see Buffalo Bill's Wild West show which appeared this afternoon and evening. Extra coaches were run on most of the trains to accommodate the many people who came to the city today but even with the additional seating capacity thus provided all available room in the cars was taken.

Six extra coaches were on the Southern Minnesota division of the C. M. & St. P. railroad and a large crowd from the cities along that route came here. All the available seats were taken while many stood in the aisles to come here and see the wild west show.

When train No. 55, fast mail, C. M. & St. P. arrived at the north side the big train was crowded to its limit as a large number of passengers came on board at each stop. A large percentage of the passengers on this train came from the many towns in the surrounding territory to see the show and it required a long time for all to get off the train when it reached the south side station.

WILL CRUSH GRANITE FOR VINE STREET

As a compromise to the crushed stone controversy which arose between the board of public works and the La Crosse Stone company because certain crushed granite to be used on Vine street did not come within the specifications as to size, the contractors have agreed to crush the rock, reducing it to less than the two inch size. The contract called for crushed granite between the one and two inch sizes and much of the rock received exceeded this size.

GRACE SHOT SELF IN DEFENSE, CLAIM

ATLANTA, Ga., Aug. 1.—That Eugene H. Grace shot himself following a bitter dispute with his wife, was the explanation of the shooting of the prominent Atlantan which Mrs. Grace's attorneys today outlined as their defense to the charge that Mrs. Grace attempted his murder.

Attorney Branch of the defense counsel suddenly changed his plan when court met today, springing the new defense for the first time since the mysterious shooting on March 5. It has been planned to place Mrs. Grace on the stand as the first witness for the defense, but the attorneys decided at once to lay the foundation for their charge of attempted suicide by calling witnesses whose identity they have carefully guarded up to this time.

MOOSE SPLIT ON OPTION

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind., Aug. 1.—Local option threatens to bring division in the ranks of the Indiana progressives. When the state progressive convention met today this was the big question and the advisability of placing such a plank in the state platform will be threshed out on the floor of the convention.

EVIDENCE AGAINST COUNT IS FLIMSY

Noble Italian Family Held on Murder Charge with but Very Slight Pretext

DETROIT, Mich., Aug. 1.—That evidence connecting Countess Annette Holliday Antonia, music teacher and prominent clubwoman, her husband Count Alexander Antonia and his nephew, Angelo Villa, with the death of Miss Elizabeth Fleming, 61, their housekeeper, is very flimsy, is admitted by the police. Release of the trio now detained at Central police station is expected soon.

Three little girls, each about 11 years of age, playmates of Janice Antonia, 12, daughter of the Count and Countess Antonia today gave important testimony to the prosecutor which it is believed will go along way toward freeing the three. Each of the girls told the prosecutor that they had often visited Miss Fleming during her illness and they said she never complained of ill treatment. They said that at the time Miss Fleming died, the count and his wife were not in the house. Marian Gault, one of the playmates, said she and Janice were with Miss Fleming when she "suddenly opened her mouth, and gave a gasp." When the Antonias returned the girl said they found Miss Fleming dead.

Dr. Ellsworth P. Mills also told the police that he believed death was due to natural causes, as he said when he visited Miss Fleming he knew she did not have long to live.

The fact that Miss Fleming made a second will while dying leaving almost her entire estate to the Antonias; that her body was cremated the day after her death, and that her family was not notified of her death form the basis of the investigation now being made.

HAVE STRONGER CASE

DETROIT, Mich., Aug. 1.—Count Alexander Antonia, his wife, Countess Annette Antonia and his nephew Angelo Villa, are still in jail today following their arrest Tuesday because the alleged mysterious death of Elizabeth Fleming, 61, a servant in their home. According to Prosecutor Shepperd, more circumstantial evidence of an incriminating nature has been unearthed against the three and they will be held until a thorough investigation has been made.

BIG WILD WEST SHOW IN TOWN

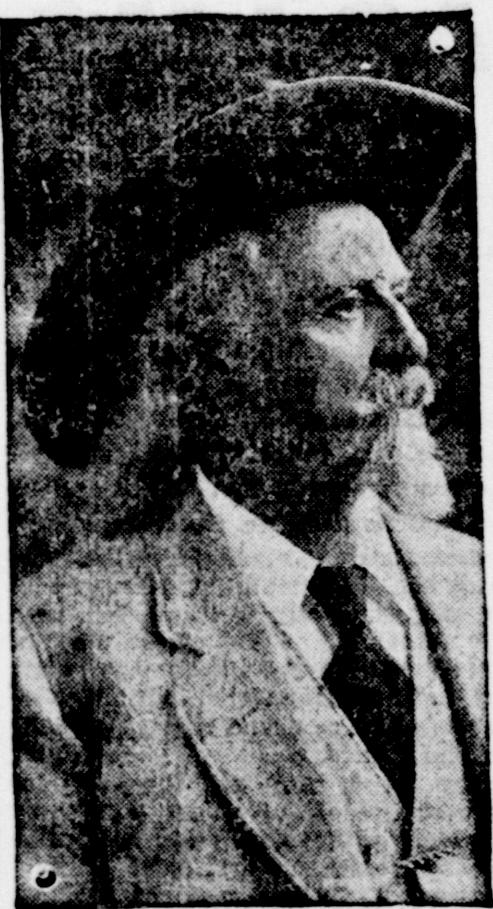

Buffalo Bill's Exhibition
Arrives on Special Train
This Morning and Is Ready to Begin

THE COLONEL IN COMMAND
Work of Erecting Arena and Tents in Charge of World-famous Indian
Scout

The big show is in town. Buffalo Bill's Wild West and Pawnee Bill's Far East arrived in this city early this morning on its special train over the Milwaukee from Spring Valley, where performances were given yesterday to huge audiences.

The work of unloading the cars and transporting the paraphernalia to the show grounds at Eighteenth and Market streets was commenced at once and by 11 o'clock all the wagons had been taken down.

After the arrival the lot was a scene of great activity. Tennis rose as if by magic, and at 11:30, in a seemingly impossible short length of time, the commissary and dining tent was filled with the performers and attaches of the shows and dinner was served.

Meantime the employees whose business it is to prepare for the exhibition, were busily engaged in getting ready for the afternoon performance.

All during the morning crowds of people flocked to the city by train, wagon and automobile and at noon the streets were filled with people on their way to the grounds.

The work of unloading the cars was watched with interest by the throngs of people and many were on the grounds during the morning watching preparations.

Buffalo Bill Seen

Colonel W. F. Cody, Buffalo Bill, the pride of the small boy, was in evidence on the grounds during the morning, and his watchful eye was on everything, as a word here and a command there evidenced.

Difficult Riding Stunt at Show

The exhibition is a striking assemblage of horsemen from all parts of the world, and as far as possible indicates the habits of the red men and the cowboys of the wild west.

In conjunction with Pawnee Bill, Colonel Cody has included a troupe of Russian dancers, Cingalese, Dahomeyans and representatives from every clime in the far east.

Promptly at 8 o'clock tonight, group after group will gather toward the front and the entire arena will be filled with horsemen. They will gallop into the arena in front of the mammoth scenic background representing a western landscape.

After the introduction of the rough riders of the world, the exhibition will commence and from then on there will not be an idle moment for three hours.

The Pony Express

The pony express, illustrating how the mails were carried in the early days, an artillery drill, participated in by veterans of the United States army, followed by a buffalo hunt, introducing one of the few herds of buffaloes left in the United States.

:: SOCIETY ::

CONCERT AND MOONLIGHT EXCURSION

The F. R. A. will endeavor to entertain their members and friends by a combination of amusements, on the moonlight excursion next Monday night, Aug. 5, when they will give a concert on board besides the dancing. Prof. James Kerr has been engaged and will sing several fine vocal numbers, among them being "The Indifferent Mariner," "Barney McGee," "The Skipper," "Uncle Rone," etc., and as Mr. Kerr has the professional ability in this line a rare treat is assured to all who attend. The orchestra will render several concert selections, so that the musical program together with the dancing will make the event pleasing to both young and old.

The committees in charge of the affair are planning for the best kind of management on board and with all the other details in charge of competent hands the affair is being looked forward to with eager anticipation.

CHILDREN'S PARTY

Mrs. F. E. Davis entertained a party of young girls yesterday in honor of her niece, Elizabeth Hayes of Minneapolis. The guests spent the fore part of the afternoon on the lawn with croquet, after which a peanut hunt was given in the house. Those present were Harriet Scofield, Florence Schweizer, Caroline and Gretchen Schweizer, Dora Hirschheimer, Lucile Cowles, Helen Burke, Amy Gottry, Frances Farr, Charlotte Kleeber, Leone Yearly, Gretchen Grams, Helen Meligs, Helen Harrison and Helen Wolfe.

SUFFRAGETTE TALK

Miss Jeannette Ranken gave an interesting talk last evening upon equal suffrage, a subject which she handled in a masterly way, showing that she had given it much thought and study. She spoke from an automobile on Main street and drew a large crowd, who listened with much attention. Miss Ranken is a western young woman, but has since taking up this work traveled across the continent and given talks in many of the large cities where she was well and enthusiastically received.

MOTOR TRIP

Mrs. H. L. Colman left this morning in her car for Mikana. She was accompanied by Miss Mary Crosby, Julia and Charles Colman and a friend.

THE MISSES HOGAN GIVE A DINNER

Miss Hogan and Miss Lucy Hogan entertained at a dinner last evening. The guests were Mrs. A. J. Whipple, Mrs. Northum, Mr. and Mrs. S. W. Anderson, Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Hixon, Rev. Johnson and Mrs. F. P. Hixon. Covers were laid for eleven.

MRS. BRINDLEY ENTERTAINS AT BRIDGE

Mrs. Thad. H. Brindley entertained three tables of bridge Tuesday afternoon. The guests were Mr. Harry Allen and Miss Helen Holbrook of Evanston, Mesdames James Hogan, Wm. Hellbach, J. J. Abblett, R. B. Gelatt, C. S. Cone, G. J. Egan, W. F. Wolfe and Mrs. Northey of Waterloo, Iowa.

SOCIAL BRIEFS

Mrs. Emma Byers of Minneapolis and Mrs. William Burgess of Chicago, are guests at the home of Mrs. F. H. Burgess, 137 South Eleventh street.

Miss Helen Butler, who has been the guest of Mrs. John Salzer at Ferndale, has returned to her home at Chicago.

Mrs. Harry Allen of Evanston, Ill., is the guest of Mrs. Walton Losey. Miss Helen Holbrook of Evanston is the guest of Mrs. James Hogan.

With the Mexican troupe are some of the finest jasso throwers the world has ever known.

The old Deadwood coach will be pursued by Indians and rescued from their depredations. Meltons Znuaves, a squad of militiamen who work with their machine-like precision, and scale a wall with lightning rapidity, are also a part of the show. Then comes the football game on horseback, between the Indians and the cowboys, the ball being almost six feet in diameter.

Members of the Sixth United States cavalry will give some of the movements which are expected of them by Uncle Sam. One of these riders straddles four equines standing.

The great musical ride, under the direction of Johnnie Baker, introducing all the important nations, is a sight to be remembered.

Buffalo Bill appears at both performances and will personally direct the great exhibition which he devised and created.

He looks as young and fresh as a colt and he says he feels "fine." The years have surely dealt kindly with the colonel for they have not left a mark upon him and physically he is as active as a youth, mounting and dismounting his horse with all the agility of a gymnast, at this afternoon's performance, which is being witnessed by large crowds.

Following the show's policy for the past eight years, no street parade was given.

Reserved seats for this evening's performance may be obtained at the Young drug store, at the same price as charged on the show grounds.

Tomorrow the Wild West and Far East will exhibit in Winona.

BOMBS WRECKED SALOON

CHICAGO, Aug. 1.—A bomb was exploded at the side door of the saloon operated by "Manny" Abrams, 721 West 12th street, early today, partially wrecking the place, but injuring no one. The police believe the bomb was set off by members of the gambling fraternity.

FREAR ADVOCATES SHORTER SESSION

State Secretary Declares
Bill Limiting Length of Sessions Should Be Passed

1,700 BILLS PASSED IN YEAR

Says Long Sessions Result in Heavy Expense and Parties Are Responsible

FOUNTAIN CITY, Aug. 1.—Secretary of State James A. Frear spoke here last night on matters concerning the congressional campaign in the new Tenth district. From ten years' association with legislative proceedings, he stated that the state of Wisconsin ought to provide a limit for legislative sessions, giving many reasons therefor.

"While the progressive movement has done much for Wisconsin," he said, "it remains to those who believe in the rule of the people to refer back to the electorate of the state the right to limit the length of legislative sessions by constitutional provision. I believe the legislator who will aggressively champion such a measure will confer a boon upon the state. The rapidly growing expenses of legislative sessions is bringing adverse criticism which is chargeable equally to members of all parties, and if the legislature does not speedily remedy the evil, the sessions will be limited as soon as the people secure the power under the initiative and referendum.

"In 1911 the session reached 184 days, or more than a half year's duration, without any senatorial contest or other especial reason for this burden upon the members. Aside from 300 odd resolutions offered in both houses, the bills submitted during the session reached over 1,700 in number. Frequently bills would contain from ten to twenty or more pages, so that the 2,000 separate measures involved many thousands of pages. Substitutes and amendments were also offered, until the average legislator and in fact every member was confronted with a hopeless mass of bills that at the end of the session by actual measure reached seventeen inches in depth when placed in a pile. The number of pages in the Assembly Journal will also be easily remembered for it reached within 17 pages of 1,700. Between $100,000 and $200,000, depending upon the method of calculation, was expended by the state for legislative expenses in 1911, aside from the salaries of the members."

Secretary Frear declared that he drew joint resolutions for the 1907, 1909 and 1911 legislatures proposing a referendum to limit the sessions by constitutional amendment. In every session it was voted down. He charged that Assemblyman Gilbertson moved its indefinite postponement and that Speaker Ingram left the chair to move immediate consideration of a motion to reconsider, in order to ensure its defeat. The resolution was defeated, 51 to 35, and Secretary Frear declared the people are entitled to know why.

Thirty-two states and territories have a legal limit for legislative sessions. Mr. Frear believed that members of the Wisconsin legislature should be paid by the day for actual attendance with a limit to the number of days. The apportionment bill, which he called unfair and which Gov. McGovern vetoed, and the resolution to change the compensation of members from $500 per session to $600 per year ($1,200 per session), were actively supported by Messrs. Gilbertson and Ingram, declared the secretary. The voters of the state had recently defeated a two year salary amendment.

"What legislature," he asked,

GARDNER OF BOSTON IS SURE SOME HITTER

It would be hard to find a Boston Red Sox player this season who isn't doing good work. Every man on the team seems to be playing a better article of ball than ever before. This is true of Third Baseman Gardner. He is playing a good all round game, and has a batting average of .314. His batting average last year was .284.

"would ever dare in its saner moments to pass the Blue Book bill enacted at the last session against the vigorous protest of the State Printing commission? This law, passed in the closing days of the session, provides that each member of the legislature shall have 200 Blue Books, a larger number than is given by any other state in the country, and reaching a total of 33,000 for the legislature alone, at an expense of over $20,000, to be issued by the members as a perquisite to be used in direct violation of the corrupt practices act. At the same time the legislature gives to the governor of the state only one Blue Book, with a similar number to every other state officer. The act is indefensible and speaks for itself, disclosing the method of prolonging objectionable bills to the close of a wearisome session."

Whatever is right, if only men are steadily bent to make it so, by comprehending and fulfilling its designs.

WEEPS ON BENCH DENYING CHARGES

Judge Accused of Crookedness Holds Accuser for Contempt and Asserts His Innocence

TOWN SERENADES OPPONENT

Mayor of Macon for Ten Years Has Citizens with Him in Fight on Jurist

MACON, Ga., Aug. 1.—Hundreds of signatures had been obtained today to a petition demanding that congress take up the charges upon which Colonel W. A. Huff for ten years mayor and one of the most popular residents of this city, demands the impeachment of Judge Emory Spear of the United States district court. The petition points out that Colonel Huff's character is unimpeachable and that his charges are so serious as to reflect upon the moral and professional conduct of the jurist.

Judge Speer has announced that some other federal judge will pass on the contempt proceedings he has brought against the former mayor. Meanwhile, Colonel Huff is out on bail and he stated today that he had received offers of unlimited funds for his fight from friends here. He positively refused to withdraw or modify a single allegation made against the federal jurist despite the fact that Speer, with tears streaming down his cheeks, denied each separate allegation from the bench and asserted that Huff was in a conspiracy to ruin him.

While Judge Speer was passing to his place on the bench a great crowd filled his courtroom and many tried to get close enough to Colonel Huff to shake hands with him and assure him of their support. Speer sat glumly in his chair for several minutes while this was going on. He then arose and emphatically denied each of the allegations his accuser had brought against him. The judge denounced the newspapers for printing the charges and the newspaper correspondents for sending them broadcast throughout the country. He asserted that the Huff estate had doubled during the thirteen years that it had been in the custody of the court, and while admitting this seemed a long time for such an action to remain unsettled, insisted there was good reason for it. He denied he had gone to Eagle River, Alaska, at the expense of the estate, that a valuable bearskin rug had been purchased from estate funds, or that he had appropriated for his own use mining stocks that should have gone to the estate.

As the judge continued, his emotion overcame him and the tears were streaming down his face at the finish. He then announced that he would admit Huff to bail and would ask an associate judge to pass upon the contempt proceedings.

Serenade Accuser

Last evening a large crowd headed by a band proceeded to Colonel Huff's home and serenaded him. Some of the more radical wanted to proceed to Judge Speer's home and hang him in effigy, but the leaders persuaded them not to do so. Judge Speer is going to Nova Scotia for a four months' vacation and unless congress acts there will be nothing done about the case until he returns.

LECTURES ON EQUAL SUFFRAGE TO BE FREE

In order that an apparent misunderstanding on the part of the general public might be cleared up, it was announced by the Equal Suffrage society of this city today that there will be no charges of admission to the lectures which will be delivered by Fola La Follette and Miss Zona Gale at the La Crosse theater tomorrow evening. The lectures which will be on equal suffrage topics, will be well worth hearing, both of the speakers being of unusual talent and experience as lecturers in the campaign for extending the rights of franchise to women. It is expected that a large crowd will take advantage of the chance to hear the daughter of Senator R. M. La Follette and her friend Miss Gale. Both are graduates of the University of Wisconsin and well known in society circles of this state. Extensive plans for the entertainment of the young women during their stay in La Crosse have been made here.

LA CROSSE MEN WIN TOURNEY TROPHIES

Three cups were won by the La Crosse golfers who competed at the state tournament at Milwaukee last week. George L. Van Auker, Alfred James and Robert D. Gordon being the local men who were awarded cups for their playing.

George Van Auker, playing in a tournament for the first time, was runner up for the secretary's cup, being beaten out in the finals by Veech, a Sheboygan boy. He was awarded a silver cup for being runner up.

The trophy to be awarded to the victor in the handicap match was won by Alfred James, who was one up on his opponent. R. D. Gordon won the cup for winning the two-ball foursome match in which Dick Cavanaugh of Kenosha was his partner.

"DAGO FRANK" IS READY TO TALK

Active Participant in New York Murder Will Confess if Saved from Chair

BREAKS DOWN IN HIS CELL

Is Identified by Eye Witness of Rosenthal Murder and Drops His Denial of Crime

NEW YORK, Aug. 1.—That the grand jury will be told the complete story of the actual murder of Herman Rosenthal, gambler, by one who actively participated in it, was admitted at the district attorney's office this afternoon. The latest to collapse is "Dago Frank" Cirocisi. He broke down completely in his cell after having been positively identified by eyewitnesses to the murder and sent word to District Attorney Whitman that he was willing to tell all if he was saved from the electric chair.

Cirocisi claims the actual shooting was done by either "Leftie Louie" or "Whitney" Lewis. It was reported that if he told all of his story that he would be permitted to plead to second degree murder and so escape the chair.

"Dago Frank" Cirocisi was expected to confess to the entire killing. Despite his claims that he can prove an alibi, the district attorney claims to have positive proof that he was one of those at the door of the Metropole when Rosenthal was shot down. The prosecutor believes Cirocisi will be willing to tell everything he knows if permitted to plead guilty to second degree murder, thus escaping the chair.

But his testimony would not help the case against Becker. Under the famous conspiracy decision of the supreme court of the United States the testimony of a co-conspirator must be corroborated completely from an independent source. Whitman believes that if he can show motive he will have the additional evidence necessary to make the story of the other principals in the murder material, but he is not certain and will offer immunity to Schepps for evidence along this line.

Meanwhile, Whitman was today following up the allegation of Rose, Webber and Vallon that Becker had ordered them to murder Rosenthal ten days before he was actually killed and that only the fact that the gunmen chosen to kill the gambler discovered that they were being shadowed by private detectives prevented the killing at that time. He will also try to trace the $1,000 which Vallon says he paid to the quartet who shot Rosenthal.

Jacob A. Reich, commonly known as Jack Sullivan, "King of the Newsboys," was scheduled to be arraigned before Coroner Feinberg today. It has been reported that he intended making sensational statements in open court, although he has insisted he knew nothing about the killing of Rosenthal. Sullivan rode up town with Lieutenant Becker shortly before the murder and has been identified as being on the scene at the time of the killing.

A sensation developed immediately after Attorney Hart Becker's counsel, went before the grand jury. Two minutes after the door closed behind him, he and Whitman came out flushed and plainly angry. They went before Judge Mulqueen, where Whitman stated that Hart had refused to answer a question put to him. Hart broke in and declared that Whitman had assailed his private character.

"I am informed that while Jack Rose was hiding, a fugitive from justice, Becker sent his attorney to see him and get an affidavit from him. I have asked Hart if this was so and he has refused to answer," said Whitman. "I think that for a member of the bar to visit a fugitive in his home is an outrage and good grounds for disbarment."

Judge Mulqueen directed Hart to go back and answer the question. The lawyer refused, saying the district attorney's information was false and that it was an outrage to assail his character in such manner. Mulqueen, however, ordered Hart to go back to the jury room and answer and said he would remain on the bench until the grand jury finished with him.

When he returned to the grand jury room, Hart was given the choice of telling all he knew about the conference he had with Rose under Becker's orders, or being jailed for contempt of court. He finally decided to tell all and did so. When Becker was informed that his attorney was testifying he was reported by Tombs officials to be very much depressed.

Attorney General Bancroft Rules Roosevelt Electors Must Run in Wisconsin as Independents

CONVENTION CANNOT ELECT

Chicago Meet Will Not Have Power to Choose Badger Election, Is Ruling

MADISON, Wis., Aug. 1.—Presidential electors on the national progressive ticket cannot obtain a party designation on the ballot to be used nor can they be appointed by the delegates to the national convention to be held in Chicago, according to an opinion handed down by Attorney General Levi P. Bancroft today. The decision of the attorney general means, unless his opinion is contested in the courts, that the Roosevelt electors in Wisconsin will have to run on the primary ticket as independent nominees and will so be classed on the official ballot used at the general election in November. As part of the same opinion Attorney General Bancroft holds that all resignations of presidential electors must be transmitted to the secretary of state under the amended election laws and that vacancies which may occur on the electoral tickets must be filled by the party state central committees. The opinion was given by the attorney general in answer to questions put to him by Colonel John Hicks of Oshkosh, one of the Roosevelt leaders in Wisconsin.

Greatest in Great Britain

The Ogilvie Flour Mills Co., Ltd., are the largest millers in the Dominion or British Empire, and by royal appointment, millers to His Majesty, King George V.

The daily capacity of the mills of the Ogilvie Co. is 25,000 barrels, which with the mill now under construction at Medicine Hat will, when completed, reach a total of 28,500 barrels daily output. In addition to these flouring mills which are located in Montreal, Fort William, Winnipeg and various other points further west to the Pacific coast, the company own and operate cereal mills and oatmeal plants and over two hundred grain elevators, both terminal and country houses. The Ogilvie mills enjoy the prestige of having been established for over one hundred years, and lead the merchant milling for the people of the Dominion of Canada, of Great Britain and Ireland, and of the British possessions over the entire world. The company has capital of $12,000,000 and unlimited credit, their activities covering the dominion from Montreal to Vancouver.

AUGUST JEWELRY

In times past people considered August the month when all the jewelers were away on vacation, all business energy let down and stocks at the lowest ebb. But we found that quiet business was not because the public were not ready to buy as much as because they couldn't get suitable things.

And so we reversed the legendary rule and kept the stock full to overflowing. Pretty bar pins, rings, bracelets, handy pins, diamonds — everything. August is a busy month.

URGES VALUE OF ENDOWED PRESS

Editor Holt Insists Newspaper Should Be Taken from Field of Competition

MADISON, Wis., Aug. 1.—Hamilton Holt, managing editor of the Independent, addressing the newspaper conference here this morning, took up a discussion of the endowed newspaper as he conceived it, saying that it was a possibility providing sufficient funds were placed behind it to the tide it over the period of trial.

"After that," he said, "when its unique character and value became generally recognized, there would be a large income from subscriptions." He discussed the organization of such a paper, one of the striking suggestions being the impartial comparison of advertisements, pointing out their merits and specific defects.

Charles Grasty, of the Baltimore Sun, spoke last night on "Some Sensationalism to Which the Public Has a Right But Cannot Get Under Present Conditions."

"This sensationalism," he said, "the press is driven to because of the fact that the interest of the Americans is not in government." He contrasted conditions here and in England where parliamentary debates are always interesting and take the place in the English paper that do murders and other sensational news here.

In a sweeping indictment of the Chicago press, Louis Post, editor of the Public, charged that there was not a commercially successful newspaper in Chicago that is edited strictly along the lines of pure journalistic instinct and that is not owned and controlled by outside interests which are not in sympathy with the truthful presentation of the social advance.

the right of states to govern themselves without the interference of the federal judiciary. The matters involved in this action are those that have plunged states into war.

"Oh, well, Mr. Jackson," broke in Justice Pitney, "I don't think we are going to have any war. Please state the facts of your defense."

Jackson smiled and then declared the allegation that fraud had been practiced by the Roosevelt electors in persuading Taft men to sign their petitions was almost too foolish to answer.

"Why everybody in Kansas," he continued, "knew exactly where these electors stood. They knew that they were Roosevelt men."

"But were there not promises made and broken," broke in Justice Pitney. "It seems to me that there must have been promises."

"Oh, yes, there were, political promises," interjected Jackson, "but that was all."

"Do you mean to be understood that political promises are made to be broken and not to be fulfilled?" queried Justice Pitney.

"Not especially. What I contend is that the Kansas supreme court was right in its declaration that the question of promises such as mentioned, and in fact the entire question involved here, was absolutely of a political nature and should not be submitted to any court for decision," replied Jackson.

Issue is G. O. P. Prestige

"Well, now, is it not a fact that the real issue here is the prestige of the regular republican organization," asked Judge Pitney.

"Yes, that is the question," said Jackson.

"Yes, and it also seems to be whether Roosevelt is to run as a republican or as the candidate of a new party," said Vandewater.

"But under the Kansas laws, Roosevelt must run as a republican," explained Jackson. "The time for a new party has expired under the state law as petitions could not be filed. So if the progressives are to be represented in the coming campaign, their electors, already nominated, must remain on the ballot."

SCALE OF CITY IS CONDEMNED

State Inspector Finds Three City Scales Incorrect; Condemns One and Repairs Others

Fred P. Downing, state inspector of weights and measures today condemned the city scale used for weighing of hay at the market square. Following a test of the scale he declared it weighs five pounds underweight on every 1,000 pounds. Mr. Downing is working in co-operation with City Sealer Eugene Dorr.

Two other scales owned by the city were also tested. One of these was found to be five pounds on 1,000 pounds and the other was twenty pounds underweight. These were adjusted by Mr. Downing but the hay scale could not be adjusted except with proper instruments. Action will probably be taken at the next meeting of the city council to procure an expert to adjust the scale.

Mr. Downing said that in every city in the state hundreds of scales are found to be under or over weight. During the first five months that the law was in force, twenty-six per cent of the scales throughout the state were found to be incorrect. Many of these were readjusted but twenty-one per cent were condemned. A large per cent of measures have also been found incorrect and over one-third of the oil pumps in use have been condemned.

He declares that the general incorrectness of scales is due more to wearing of the parts than to intentional dishonesty of the dealers.

IMPEACHMENT CASE UP

ARCHBALD'S ATTORNEY ASKS THAT DECISION ON DATE OF TRIAL GO OVER TILL SATURDAY

WASHINGTON, Aug. 1.—With the "replication" of the house prosecutors in the Archbald case before them, the senate today resumed its judicial function as a high court of impeachment. Archbald was not present when the answer by the house to the jurist's defense was read. It was a formal reiteration of the previous charges that Archbald should be impeached and denied all his statements of law. Chairman Clayton of the prosecutors urged that August 7 be set as the trial date. Attorney Worthington, for Archbald, asked that decision as to the date of trial be postponed until Saturday.

Mistress (to Mary about to be married): "And where did you meet your young man, Mary?" Mary: "Oh, at uncle's funeral, mum. He was the life and soul of the party."

"Did you go into society in Philadelphia?" "Yes." "And how did they kill time there?" "They don't kill it. They just sit down and wait for it to die a natural death."

FOREIGN MARKETS

New York Stocks

NEW YORK, Aug. 1.—The stock market opened with a show of animation, Canadian Pacific again leading in the gains.

11 a. m.—Activity considerably above the recent average developed during the first hour, due, it is said, to favorable steel and crop conditions and the reported utterances of the democratic presidential nominee on the tariff.

Governments unchanged; other bonds strong.

Noon—The tone continued firm.

2 p. m.—The tone continued strong and some representative issues were at the highest figures of the day.

Chicago Grain Letter

CHICAGO, Aug. 1.—The wheat market was steady today and trading was moderate. Buying of September by a leading commission house brought the price up slightly. News today was lacking in anything to influence speculative commitments, or to readjust open accounts.

Corn offerings for future delivery were light and the bears were caused considerable worry by the bulls making high bids.

Strength in the neighboring pits developed enough demand in the oats market to give it a semblance of strength and prices ruled slightly higher than yesterday's.

Provisions were under pressure, but prices held fairly well.

CLAIMS CANCER CURE

BERLIN, Aug. 1.—Physicians are examining today the forty-four persons Dr. Adolph Zeller says he cured of cancer without operating. Some of the investigators are skeptical. Others think a great discovery has been made.

The man who borrows trouble generally gives his peace of mind as security.
It doesn't take very long for the worst to happen.

WATCHING THE SCOREBOARD

The Red Sox started the Browns with an easy win, while the Senators dropped a game in the west for the second time this season.
The Giants walked over the Reds, but the dopests blame it on O'Day for taking out Fromme when he was pitching in great form.
Nineteen innings at Boston and only one admission fee. It was the longest game of the season. The teams didn't get warmed up well until the eighteenth, when the fun broke.
The Phillies and the Cardinals split a double-header.
It was a ragged game between the White Sox and the Yanks. Hal Chase made a sensational assist, fielding a hot grounder by throwing it backwards. The Yanks won 12 to 3.
Tiger Pitcher Lake slammed the ball over the fence for a home run.
The Cubs started business in Brooklyn by smothering the Superbas, 11 to 4.

GIRL ALLEGES ABUSE

CHICAGO, Aug. 1.—Raymonia French, aged 14, who recovered consciousness on a lonely road near Elgin after having lain there several hours, tearfully told today a sensational story of mistreatment at the hands of three men. According to the girl's story she was walking along the street near her aunt's home on East 54th street, when an automobile containing three men pulled up to the curb. One of the men, she says, got out and told her she had lost her bracelet. When she stooped to look for it, she declares, a bag was thrown over her head, she was hurried into the car and it was driven rapidly away. In a lonely spot, she said the three men disrobed and mistreated her. The police are investigating.

GOLF FOR U. S. TITLE

BUFFALO, N. Y., Aug. 1.—With the morning's rising sun an unprecedented field of the nation's premier golfers began play today upon the links of the Country club of Buffalo, for the title of open golf champion of the United States. The list numbered 131, or exactly 40 more than have ever heretofore entered to compete for the open championship in this country.

REFUSES SPECIAL TRAIN

INDIANAPOLIS, Aug. 1.—Governor Thomas R. Marshall, democratic vice presidential nominee, will not ride in special trains or private cars during his campaign, but will ride in regular trains, being accompanied by Mrs. Marshall only, according to the present plans of the state's executive today. He declared he would pay all his own expenses.

MANDOT IN GOOD SHAPE.

MEMPHIS, Tenn., Aug. 1.—Joe Mandot of New Orleans today said he was in excellent shape to meet Joe Rivers on Labor day at Los Angeles. Mandot last night toyed with Leo Roux for four rounds and duplicated the performance with Bobby Robideau of St. Louis a few minutes later.

TECHMANN CHESS LEADER

BRESLAU, Aug. 1.—Richard Techmann, Carlsbad chess master, had the lead when play in the international chess tournament was resumed today. He bounded ahead through Dr. Tarrasch being defeated by K. Treybal, of Prague.

A lot of people are in favor of government ownership because they can't get it themselves.

Running high jump: O. Strum, Hood street, first; Enders, Twelfth street, second; Harris, Copeland, third; Tekil, Hood street, fourth. Height, four feet 11 1-2 inches.

Running broad jump: Ryan, Copeland, first; Lee, Copeland, second; Enders, Twelfth street, third; Finn, Copeland, fourth. Distance, 16 feet 4 inches.

100 yard dash: Ryan, Copeland, first; Harris, Copeland, second; Lee, Copeland, third; Strum, Hood street, fourth. Time, 11 seconds.

FAN-ATICAL FANCIES

Walter Johnson, Washington's wonderful pitcher, has the distinction of being the first twirler in either of the big leagues to fan 200 batters this season. Counting last Sunday's game the star slab artist of Griffith's team reached the 200 mark in the strikeout line and his nearest rival is Joe Wood of the Red Sox who has set down 151 batters by the strikeout route. Alexander, the Phillies' star pitcher, leads the National league as he has breezed 127 batters.

Watson, the Outcasts' pitcher last year, twirled another wonderful game for Oshkosh yesterday when he beat Madison 3 to 1 allowing them but three singles. Oshkosh won both games of the double header, the second combat going to Killian's team when Tracey scored the only tally of the game on his two bagger and a wild throw.

SELL RACE HORSE

CLEVELAND, Aug. 1.—Baldy McGregor, a three year old trotter, developed by George R. Dougan of Richmond, Ind., today became the property of John E. Madden for the reported price of $7,500. Baldy McGregor won fourth money in the grand circuit sweepstakes, run Tuesday at North Randall.

ARREST REMNANT OF CREW

RIO DE JANEIRO, Aug. 1.—The police today arrested the survivors members of the crew of two suburban trains on the Central Brazilian railroad which collided yesterday, killing or injuring 100. Carelessness is charged.
